

Leadership Development eLearning Training Vendors

Company	More Information	Comments
DDI	http://www.ddiworld.com/e-learning-center	CHA discount available
SkillSoft	http://www.skillsoft.com/
Achieve Global	http://www.achieveglobe.com/what-we-do/the-learning-experience/elearning.aspx *POC: Mindy Paine (972)769-4040	Achieve Global is known for delivering classroom-based content but has really built up their eLearning delivery options. They also offer Virtual Instructor Led training (vILT) which is web-based learning. This could potentially be a good vendor partner for blended learning—classroom, eLearning thru your LMS, and virtual sessions.
Franklin Covey	http://www.franklincovey.com/tc/solutions/online-learning *POC: Jonathan Jardine (913) 538-5303	Franklin Covey offers facilitator-led and eLearning courses on the 7 Habits of Highly Effective People. They have pretty good content, but can be a little pricing. If you are interested in their elearning, they have some room for negotiation.
Harvard Business	http://www.harvardbusiness.org/	The Harvard name speaks for itself. Harvard Business offers approximately 40 eLearning courses for mid-level to Executive level management. Their courses are mobile device friendly.
Cornell	http://www.ecornell.com/corporate-programs/redshift/	The Cornell name speaks for itself. Cornell's eLearning courses are branded as RedShift.
getAbstract	http://www.getabstract.com/en/ *POC: Laura Jilke (305) 936-2625	getAbstract offers eBook summaries in various topic areas, including Ted Talks. They can develop the marketing for you, as well as assist with building custom catalogs by leadership type (i.e. individual contributors, managers, executive leadership) as well as topic. They have a good project management cycle for implementation, and the content can be integrated with your LMS.
Enspire	http://www.enspire.com/	Enspire's specialty is developing simulations and games for

		training. They are not leadership development specific. They are included here in the case there is a need for creating learning that would develop technical (job function) and leadership behaviors through scenario-based training. They have clients in the medical/healthcare industry and have created some training &amp; simulations for specific needs. Some of their medical case studies are available online at http://www.enspire.com/case-studies/
eJ4	http://ej4.com/ *POC: Adam Lendowski (314) 878-6700 x1506	eJ4 offers simple, 15 minute vignettes that are generally well received by non-management staff. If looking for training and development for non-management staff, this may be a good suitable option. Ej4 will also work with customers for custom video development. They are not the right fit for every company culture so take your hospital culture into consideration when considering this vendor.
Fred Pryor	http://www.pryor.com/site/TrainingRewards/online-training-courses-and-seminars/	Fred Pryor has been around for years as a “public workshop” training vendor. They offer some decent online training courses that can be integrated with your LMS. Their training catalog includes a little bit of something on lots of topics. Their content is better suited for individual contributors and frontline managers but not Executive Leadership. Additionally, Leadership Development is not their specialty.
SkillPath Seminars	https://www.skillpath.com/ *POC: Justin Bale (913) 677-6228	SkillPath has been around for years as a “public workshop” training vendor, and they also offer customized, training classes. They deliver their content in a few different formats to include classroom and webinar-based training. They will also license the webinar training to repurpose as elearning content.
